Hello:

This is one concerned citizen who wishes the Federal Government would quit attacking Microsoft. I do not work for Microsoft, and I do believe that Microsoft has already been subjected to more than enough of weak attacks brought on by losers (Netscape et al).

If you will remember, the market slide began as part of the Clinton administration Microsoft witch hunt, so now that those weak minded people are (hopefully) gone we can now let things get back to normal, where success does not equate to a Federal lawsuit.

Proudly we stand and may liberty reign!
